A spacious room, fronted with stone...

Behind the Hall are small apartments, in which Members of the Corporation transact the business of the city. Underneath the Guildhall is the gaol for the confinement of felons and debtors.

Harwood’s “History of Lichfield” describing Guildhall in 1806
Guildhall provides a setting steeped in history but also good quality modern facilities. It has been central to the government of Lichfield for over 600 years and has also served as the Court, prison, police station, theatre, and fire station.

The first Guildhall was erected on this site around 1387, when Richard II granted ordinances to the Guild of St Mary and St John the Baptist.

In 1707 the Conduit Lands Trustees made a contribution of £83 for “plucking down and rebuilding the Townhall” because it was “so ruinous that it was in danger of falling down”.

Further works took place in 1741, most of the present ground floor, and the smaller rooms at the rear of the building date from this period.

By the 1840’s, Guildhall appears to have been in a ruinous condition, and in 1844 the Conduit Lands Trust agreed to provide £2,000 “to put the Guildhall to rights once and for all”. It is these works which created the Gothic style frontage to Bore Street, and the panelled main hall on the first floor.

As well as the general maintenance associated with buildings of this age, major repairs and refurbishment to Guildhall have taken place more recently, including the installation of a lift and a professional standard catering kitchen in 2010.
The Guildhall (main hall)

First Floor, maximum capacity 160 (88 using round tables), access by stairs or lift.

The main hall is 87’ (26m) long and 25’ (7.5m) wide. It is oak panelled, with a beamed high roof, giving a fine medieval backdrop to your ceremony.

At the north end there is a large stone tracery stained glass window that was originally placed in the north transept of Lichfield Cathedral in 1811 and depicts principal founders and patrons of the Cathedral.

The Minstrels Gallery on the second floor overlooks the main hall and provides an excellent view of proceedings that is often used for photographs.

The Guildroom

Ground Floor, maximum capacity 70

In the early part of the 18th Century the front part of the ground floor was let as a house, later becoming the living quarters for the Police Superintendent. What is now the Guildroom was used as a fire station until 1943.

This room housed two tenders which left through a double door at the front. Even in the 1930’s only one tender had an engine; when the second tender was required it was towed to the scene of the fire by the breakdown truck from the local garage! The Guildroom has been fully refurbished with panelled walls and a timber ceiling.

Prison Cells

The prison for felons and debtors, at the rear of the building has been in existence since c.1545, and originally had eleven rooms and cells. The cells are open to the public at certain times throughout the year.

Several ceremonies that have taken place at the Guildhall have utilised the cells for photographs, providing a unique backdrop to the events of the day! Access to the cells can be arranged for you at any time of the year, but please inform us at the time of booking.

We would be delighted to show you Lichfield’s Guilhall and discuss how we can tailor your event to your specific requirements. Viewings are by appointment only, please contact us to arrange your visit.

BAR FACILITIES

If you wish to sell alcohol at your booking, there are two options:

a) The Council has an agreement with the Lichfield District Arts (LDA) to operate the bar at Guildhall. You will need to book the bar with the Guildhall Bookings Secretary, and the charge will be added to your invoice.

b) If you do not wish to use the LDA bar, it may be possible for you to make separate arrangements with a qualified licensee to provide bar services, but this will require prior written consent from the Council. You will not be able to use the fitted bar facilities and you will need to provide your own glasses.

If it is a private function and alcohol is to be provided entirely free then a licence is not required, and you can bring in your own alcohol. In this case you should also arrange to supply your own glasses.

Remember that you, as the hirer, are responsible for maintaining good order during your booking and will be charged for any damage caused to facilities.

CONFETTI

Paper confetti may be thrown outside after your ceremony, but metallic or flower petal confetti cannot be used in the building or close by as it would damage the oak floor.

CAR PARKING FACILITIES

There are no parking facilities at Guildhall. The nearest long stay car park is situated on The Friary Outer North side. Access for loading/unloading is prohibited 10am-4pm Friday & Saturday (access for loading/unloading only is permitted at other times).

EXEMPTION FROM PEDESTRIANISATION RULES

Wedding/civil partnership cars (i.e. for one or both of the couple) are exempt from the requirements of the Pedestrianisation Order and the couple may therefore be driven to the front of Guildhall if required.
